

About FSSNGen (aka Five Speed Serial Serial Number Generator)

The package contained in this archive, "FSSNGen.μ.pkg" is a serial number for the commercial software products released in the late 1990s by the now-defunct company Five Speed Software.

This package can generate registration codes for Wake Up Call and Dash Board.

To use this software, install it on your Newton device (whether real or emulated) and then run it to generate the code that will allow you to unlock Wake Up Call and/or Dash Board on that device.

This software has been released, free of charge and without any warranty, so that people interested in resurrecting old Newton environments are able to use those old applications if they wish.

Many thanks to Pawel Piotrowski and the NewtonTalk mailing list for assistance in recovering this old program!
